

Letter of Invitation

To whom it may concern:

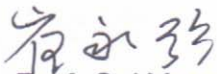

In the wake of globalization, academic exchanges in all fields between China and the U.S. have been well placed into foreseeable agendas. At the forefront of that, Chinese medical professionals are attempting to create more interactive opportunities with their U.S. counterparts.

As a leading TCM hospital, Guang Anmen TCM hospital is A WHO collaboration Center for TCM. And it is responsible for clinical training, medical research and treatment. Of its many missions, there is no doubt that it serves the best interests of its doctors and nurses to more frequently communicate with International counterparts in their field of specialty. The exchange will benefit not only the medical professionals but also understanding and friendship of the two nations.

As everyone knows, the U.S. organization, Global Reach Institute for International Exchange has many years of experience in promoting friendly academic exchanges between international professionals and those of the People's Republic of China. Global Reach's commitment to bridging the world has never wavered.

We are honored to invite and entrust Global Reach to continue developing Medical and Nursing delegations to visit China in the future, and we are committed to assisting in the arrangement of professional meetings and site visits that allow for new relationships, educational opportunity, and joint collaboration between U.S. and Chinese medical professionals and their respective affiliations.

Kind Regards,

Prof. Cui Yongqiang, Director
Guang Anmen International
